

Record of Proceedings 16.Oct.2021

Title: Nature Conservation Lecture

Date: 16.Oct.2021 1:30PM

Place: Sapporo City Univ. Satellite Campus

Asty45 north4 west5 chuoku Sapporo Japan

Lecturer: Professor Kazuo Wada

Mr. Hisao Fujita

Attendees: Dr. Kazunori Arita (Nature conservation Society of Hokkaido Chairman)

Professor Toshio Tsubota (Hokkaido Univ.)

Mr. Takahiro Ueda (SeaLionsClub)

Ms. Mina Jimbo (Hokkaido Univ.)

Masaji Nishino (SeaLionsClubTokyo)

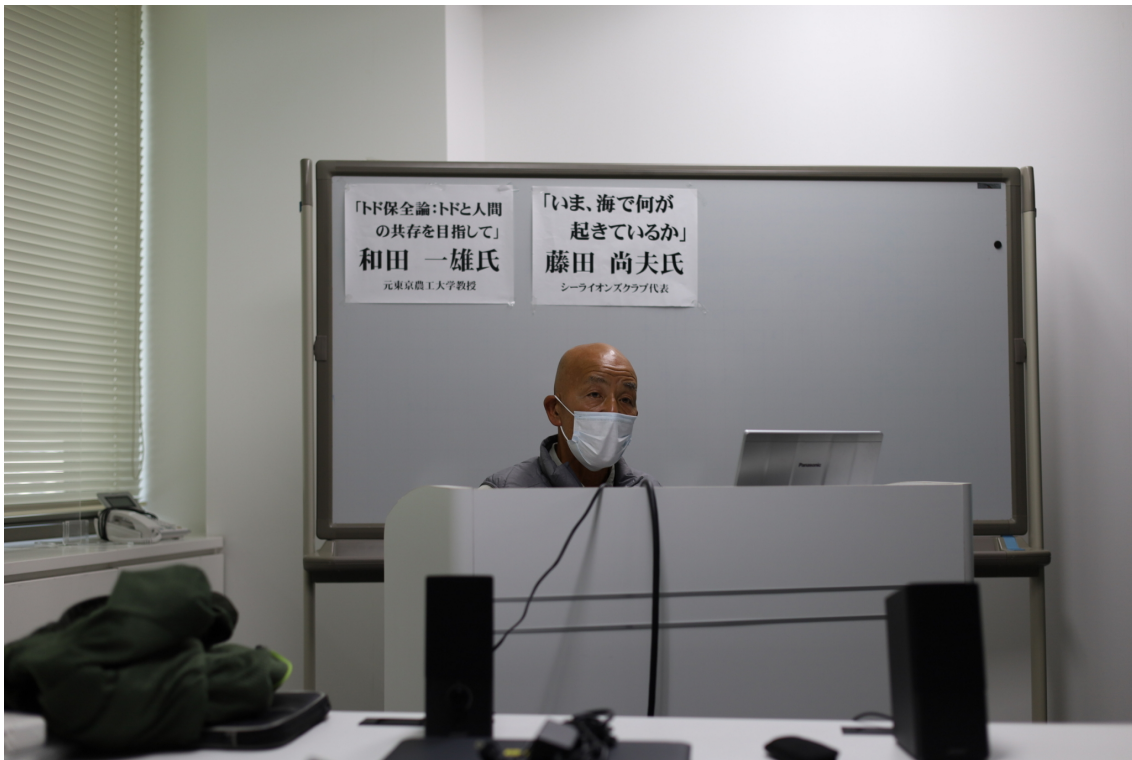

OTHERS (Sapporo citizens , Online participants)

Organizer: Nature conservation Society of Hokkaido

Summary:

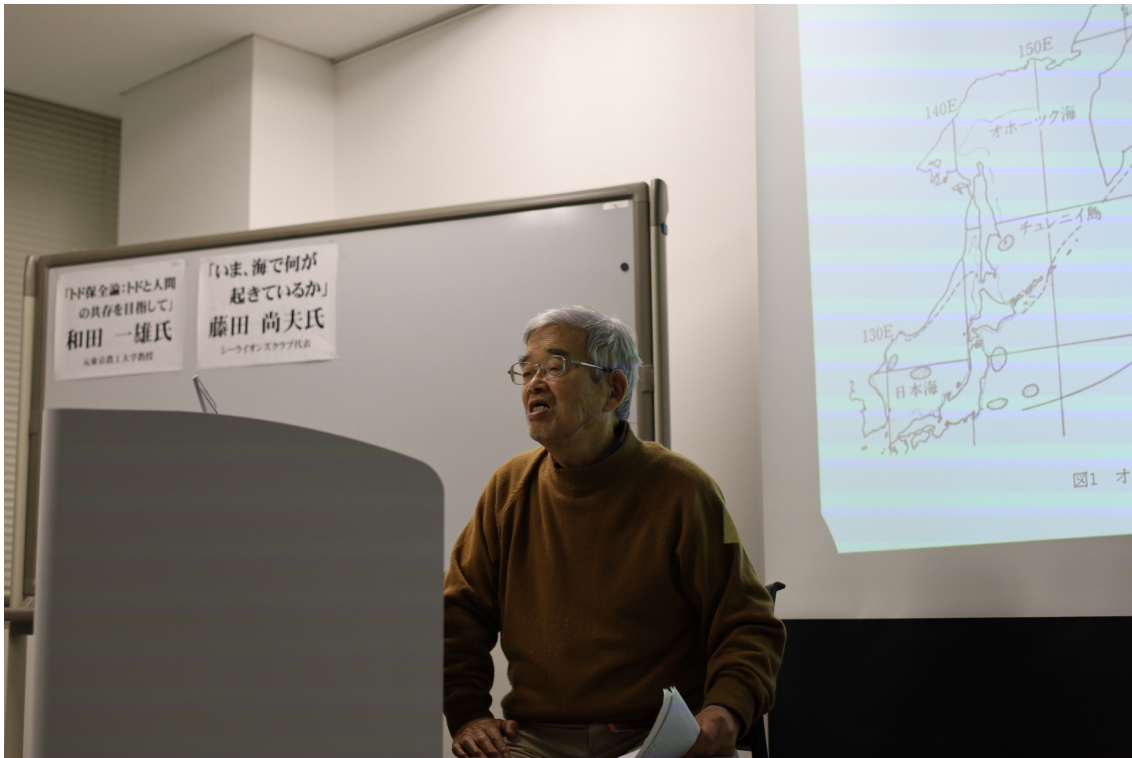

Consideration on the conservation of Steller Sea Lion inhabiting Hokkaido and Russia Sea Area, which are strongly affected by climate change.

Contents:

Mr. Hisao Fujita (PADI Course Director)

1. Underwater image of Steller Sea Lion
2. Reduction of fishery resources due to overfishing
3. Ignore Red List
4. Importance of civic movement and nature observation

Professor Kazuo Wada

- 1.Beginning of Steller Sea Lion extermination
- 2.Decrease in population of Steller Sea Lion
- 3.Correlation between fishery damage and population decline
- 4.Importance of local conservation movement
- 5.Recommendations to the government

This lecture was held at the time of the spread of Covid-19 infection, but it was held after sufficient infection control measures were taken.

For more information, please contact Sea Lions Club Tokyo.